RE: Paint Chart

RECOMMENDATION

This discussion item is before the Village Council at the request of Councilmember Gusman.

BACKGROUND

Councilmember Gusman requested the Administration to provide examples of how other municipalities regulate the painting of buildings. Attached are regulations from Miami Beach, Coral Gables, and Hollywood.

Municipality	Permit Required For	Permit Reviewed By	Color Chart or List of Colors
Coral Gables	All new construction, additions, existing structures	City Architect or Designee	List of Colors
Hollywood	All construction, additions, and existing structures located in: Community Redevelopment Areas, Local Historic Districts/Sites, and National Register of Historic Places.		Paint Chart
Miami Beach	All new construction, additions, existing structures	New construction: Design Review Board and/or Historic Preservation for structures in certain zoning districts. Otherwise, staff review.

Should the Council wish to proceed, then direction should be provided to the Administration and Village Attorney to prepare an ordinance. The direction should determine if paint permits will be required for work in single family, multiple family, institutional, and/or commercial zoning districts.

Sec. 142-1193. - Color selection procedures and review criteria.

(1) The color chart, as amended and dated July 17, 1996, shall be available in the planning, design and historic preservation division and is hereby approved and, by this reference, incorporated into these land development regulations. An applicant for a building permit for paint or the application of a building surface material shall select a color of equal or lesser intensity than a color intensity from the color chart and must provide a paint chip or dry sample sufficient to indicate that the specified paint or color of building surface material to be used matches a color shown on the city exterior color review chart or is a color which is lighter in intensity than any other color on the color chart.

(2) The city exterior color review chart shall consist of the following components:

a. City-wide color intensities. These intensities shall be applicable to all structures, except for contributing structures, buildings, improvements in locally designated historic districts and historic sites.

b. Historic district color intensities. These intensities shall be applicable to contributing structures, buildings and improvements in locally designated historic districts and to historic sites.

c. Mediterranean revival architecture colors. These colors are applicable only to Mediterranean revival architecture buildings and structures and are limited to natural earth tones as represented by examples on the color chart.

For purposes of this subsection (a)(2)c, Mediterranean revival architecture shall be defined as those structures built between 1915 through 1940. This style is generally characterized by, but not limited to, stucco walls, low pitch terra cotta or historic Cuban tile roofs, arches, scrolled or tile capped parapet walls and articulated door surrounds, or Spanish baroque decorative motifs and classical elements.

(3) Colors commonly described with terms such as neon, fluorescent, day-glo, iridescent and similar terms shall not be permitted to be applied to the exterior surface of any structure unless such color has been approved by the design review board or joint design review board/historic preservation board, as applicable.

(4) Colors for roof tiles and pitched roof finishes shall be limited to terra cotta, white or natural earth tones, unless an alternative color has been approved by the design review board or joint design review board/historic preservation board, as applicable.

(b) Permit required.

(1) A building or structure shall not be painted or have applied a natural or manufactured material as an exterior facade without first receiving a building permit or paint permit pursuant to the requirements of the South Florida Building Code. No building or structure shall be painted or have a material applied to the exterior facade, except in a paint color or material approved pursuant to the provisions of this subsection 142-1193(b). No roof tile or roof finish shall be installed or applied on a pitched roof except in a color or finish which complies with the regulations of subsection 142-1193(a)(4).

(2) Permits for repainting of existing structures or painting of new structures, or applying a natural or manufactured material to an exterior facade, shall not be issued until either: (i) the applicant selects a color from the color chart and submits a sample of the color for review and approval by the planning, design and historic preservation division by completion of a paint approval application, or (ii) has a specific color, not represented in the color chart, approved by the design review board or joint design review board/historic preservation board. Upon approval of the color sample, the paint chip or dry sample shall be attached to the building paint or material permit and on the paint or material approval application. The color sample shall be attached to the paint or material approval application and retained by the planning, design and historic preservation division for future reference.

(3) Permits for pitched roofs shall not be issued until the applicant submits a sample of the color or finish for review and approval by the planning, design and historic preservation division. The approved color or finish sample shall be attached to the permit and a color sample shall be retained by planning, design and historic preservation division for future reference.

(4) If the building or structure to be painted, or surfaced with a natural or manufactured material, requires a permit or approval in addition to a paint or material approval from a board or the planning, design and historic preservation division, the applicant may submit an application for a building permit or board approval simultaneously with an application for paint or material color approval. However, a certificate of occupancy, certificate of completion, or certificate of use, whichever is requested earlier, shall not be issued until the planning, design and historic preservation division or design review or joint design review board/historic preservation board, as applicable, approves the color selection.

(5) The planning, design and historic preservation division shall have the authority to approve or deny the color selection based upon the criteria as set forth in subsection 142-1193(c). The criteria listed in subsection 142-1193(c) may be utilized for projects being reviewed by the design review or joint design review/historic preservation board, as applicable.

(c) Review criteria.

(1) At least 70 percent of the exterior of each wall of a building or structure shall be in a color of equal or less intensity than one of the colors on the city exterior color review chart.

(2) Color intensities greater than those represented on the city exterior color review chart may be utilized only for purposes of emphasizing trim and accenting architectural features of a structure and shall not exceed 30 percent of each wall area.

(3) Color intensities listed in neighborhood plans or, to the extent applicable, listed in exterior design guidelines adopted by the city commission may be used, in the neighborhoods or areas defined in such plans or guidelines, in lieu of those specified in the city exterior color review chart.

(4) Colors selected shall be appropriate to the architectural style, ornamentation, massing and scale of the structure.

(5) For purposes of color review, the percentage of a building's or structure's wall shall be exclusive of glass areas.

(Ord. No. 89-2665, § 11-3, eff. 10-1-89; Ord. No. 90-2722, eff. 11-21-90; Ord. No. 96-3049, § 1(11-3), 7-17-96)

Sec. 142-1194. - Appeal.

An applicant may appeal a decision made by the planning, design and historic preservation division regarding these regulations, including those related to single-family homes, to the design review board, except in the case of single-family homes located in a historic preservation district or listed as a historic site, such appeal shall be to the historic preservation board. If the building or structure is not a single-family home and is located within a locally designated historic preservation district or is listed as a historic site, such an appeal shall be to the joint design review board/historic preservation board. The appeal shall be filed with the historic preservation and urban design director within 30 days of the date of the decision. The basis of the appeal is whether the planning, design and historic preservation division acted arbitrarily or capriciously in reaching its decision. Appeal of a design review board decision shall be made pursuant to procedures as set forth in section 118-262. Appeal of a joint design review board/historic preservation board or historic preservation board decision shall be made pursuant to procedures as set forth in section 118-537.

(Ord. No. 89-2665, § 11-4, eff. 10-1-89; Ord. No. 96-3049, § 1(11-4), 7-17-96)
