MAY 5: The Elgin Marbles / Part 1

MAY 12: The Elgin Marbles / Part 2

The Elgin Marbles, also known as the Parthenon Marbles, are a collection of Classical Greek marble sculptures made under the supervision of the architect and sculptor Phidias and his assistants. They were originally part of the temple of the Parthenon and other buildings on the Acropolis of Athens.

MAY 19: Kurt Schwitters, Fragmented Images

Kurt Schwitters worked with collages. He actively produced artistic journals, illustrated works and advertisements, as well as founding his own Merz journal. He wrote poems and musical works that played with letters in unusual combinations. His multiple efforts culminated in his large merzbau creations.

MAY 26: Women in Art, Masterpieces

Women artists have been involved in the making of art throughout history. Their work, when compared to that of their male counterparts, has often been overlooked and undervalued. However, and against the odds, women have shown that they are as capable as men at creating tremendous and inspiring masterpieces.
